At a Glance

We operate wherever there is controlled flow of oils, gases, vapors or chemical substances. Valves are our core business. Together with you, we are active in a market that has enormous potential for future innovations. We are expanding the valves' decentralized intelligence to achieve greater flexibility, safety and reliability in industrial processes. We preserve the heritage established by our company's founding father, Mr. Hermann Sandvoss, and ensure that his philosophy lives on by continuously developing product innovations and upgrades.
